About the Office for National Statistics

The Office for National Statistics (ONS) is the government agency responsible for compiling, analysing and disseminating many of the United Kingdom's economic, social and demographic statistics, including the retail prices index, trade figures and labour market data, as well as the periodic census of the population and health statistics. The Director of ONS is also the National Statistician and the Registrar General for England and Wales, and the agency administers the statutory registration of births, marriages and deaths there.

A National Statistics publication

Official statistics bearing the National Statistics logo are produced to high professional standards set out in the National Statistics Code of Practice. They undergo regular quality assurance reviews to ensure that they meet customer needs. They are produced free from any political interference.

INDUSTRY SALES AND TURNOVERCider and Other Fruit Wines - Industry 15940

This table shows the relationship between the total sales of principal products of the industry and the total turnover of the companies classified to the industry.

Companies are classified to an industry according to their main production activity (principal products). The total turnover of the companies is broken down into non-production activity, split into four main heading, Net Carry-In/Carry-Out and the Total UK Manufacturer Sales of products within this industry.

Carry-In sales are defined as the sales of products classified to an industry which are made by companies classified to other industries. Conversely, Carry-out sales are the sales of products classified to other industries by companies classified to this industry.
